

Athanasios K. Kouimtzis

Athanasios K. Kouimtzis, 1972, finished High school in the US, as a foreign exchange student. As an undergraduate, he studied Political Sciences and Business Administration in North Carolina and continued his Postgraduate degrees in National Security Studies and International Executive MBA in Georgetown University.

For four years worked in the Greek Embassy in Washington D.C. as an assistant to the Economic and Commercial Counselor. Moving in the shipping industry, he worked for two years in World Carrier Corporation, based in Athens and London.

Since 2000, he joined the family business. With a market tradition of almost 80 years –since 1936- the family business is engaged in three sectors.

The first sector is in agricultural machinery and components with a strong international sales network and a presence in more than 35 countries.

The second sector is the industrial with Power Transmission Components and Precision equipment by representing some of the leading manufacturers for the Southeastern European markets such as TIMKEN, GATES, IWIS, TSUBAKI, ZKL Bearings, Walterscheid, Dickey John.

The third sector is Defense and Security, by manufacturing components for land systems and air support components having MOU with some of the top EU and US companies in the field and working closely with Security Consulting, Homeland Security, Biotechnical Development Systems.

EPTDA, Brussels, Board Member

European Power Transmission Distributors Associations

SEKPY, Athens, Board Member

National Defense Industry Association

American Hellenic Chamber of Commerce

Northern Greece Committee

Agrotechnology committee

Thanasis Kouimtzis is a father of a ten year old girl.